To be rich is to Seek

This scenario is based on the classic comics by Carl Barks, based on his characters and published by Walt Disney. The scenario is developed by Sipi Myllynen, and written by Petteri Hannila.

Duckburg in the middle of great changes.

It is the 70s. The Duckburg has changed from the 50s, where we saw it in the classic cartoons of Carl Barks. Unlike all the writers of comics, who kept the status quo of the Duck family, even though years and decades passed by, here we'll do differently. We take the works of Carl Barks as history of Duckburg. Something that happened fifteen years ago.

The world has changed from the 50s. Donald Duck lives his middle age, the nephews are young adults, perhaps finishing their studies. The American society has changed from what it was in the 50s.

The old heads of the Duck family have felt the touch of time as well. Elvira (Grandma) Duck has died of cancer, to the sorrow of her family. Surprisingly it was Scrooge McDuck who was shook the most. The changing world suddenly caught up with the old gazillionaire and he wasted away only few months after Grandma's death.

Yes, the world's richest duck has died, and Duckburg is facing its largest change in a long, long time.
